

SPEEDY JUSTICE IN THE CIRCUIT COURT

Teddy Palmer Sentenced to Reformatory For One to Eight Years Soon After Arrest

BROKE INTO FREIGHT DEPOT

Confesses Stealing Package Containing Two Comforts; Also Coffee Pots—Fred Bright Held

Speedy justice was meted out Monday afternoon in the circuit court, following the arrest of Teddy Palmer shortly before noon on a charge of larceny, and sentencing him to the state reformatory for a period of one to eight years, within a few hours after his arrest.

Palmer was arrested as a suspect of robbing the Big Four depot in this city last Thursday night. The robbery was discovered early Friday and a package was missing from the freight department. Captain Neal of the detective force was summoned and was working on the local matter with Sheriff Hunt.

The robbery was not made public. Sheriff Hunt arrested Palmer Monday morning on suspicion. Fred Bright also was arrested Monday afternoon by Police Chief Blackburn on a charge of receiving stolen goods and is held in jail on that charge.

After he was pinned down by the officers at noon yesterday, Palmer is said to have confessed to the theft at the station. The package that was stolen consisted of two bed comforts.

On Thursday evening, according to the officers, Palmer and Bright were in the rear of the A. G. Haydon hardware store gathering old paper, and Palmer admitted stealing two copper coffee pots, nickle plated, valued at $2.25 a piece. He sold these, according to the officers, for the sum of fifteen cents to Fred Bright.

Later Palmer refunded Bright the money, and requested the two pots, but Bright refused, and the charge of receiving stolen goods was launched against him.

Palmer gave his age as 18 years, when arraigned before Judge Sparks Monday afternoon, and as he made a confession, he entered a plea of guilty to the charge.

He was fined $9 and costs, the value of the goods stolen, and given a term of not less than one, nor more than eight years at the reformatory.

Bright is held to answer to the charge of receiving stolen goods, and will be arraigned later.

DROP OF 41 DEGREES IS RECORDED IN THE COUNTY

ABNORMAL PAST FEW DAYS

A drop of 41 degrees was recorded in Rush county in a little more than twelve hours from noon Monday, according to Elwood Kirkwood of Maunzy, in charge of the government thermometer.

The highest reached Monday was shortly after noon when the mercury was standing at 64 degrees, and after a heavy downpour of rain, the sky began to clear and the weather got much colder, with the mercury falling to 23 degrees above zero during the night, and making a drop of 41 degrees.

The sudden departure from the high level of yesterday was noticeable to a great extent, although the temperature today was near normal. The abnormal temperature of the past few days made the contrast greater.

The weather bureau predicts fair weather for tonight and Wednesday, with slightly colder temperature tonight.

FOUR CIVIL SUITS ARE FILED IN CIRCUIT COURT

CLAIMS AGAINST ESTATES

Four civil suits were filed today in the circuit court, one action being to set aside a conveyance, two suits being on claims against estates, and the fourth a complaint on a note.

Hugh Brennenburg and others are plaintiffs in an action filed against Emma C. Caldwell and others, in which the plaintiffs are seeking to have a deed to real estate involved in the settlement of the Alice Jones estate, set aside. The plaintiffs charge that the property was falsely conveyed, and that the court should partition the property, appoint a commissioner to sell and dispose of the interest involved.

Two suits on claims were filed, one by Camillus A. Bowen against the estate of Sarah Ann Bowen for $1,011.22 and the other a complaint against the estate of George B. Moore, Sr., by Henry C. Moore, with the demand for $40.

The Adam H. Bartel Company of Richmond has filed suit against Walter S. Mansfield of Milroy, demanding judgment for $800 on a note alleged to be past due.

WHETTING HIS APPETITE

Obeying Early Mailing Rules Will Help Make Christmas a Merry One

Postal Authorities Call Attention to Necessity of Following Suggestions in Order to Insure Delivery of Christmas Parcels

Christmas can be made a much happier day than it would otherwise be by following the suggestions of postal authorities in the wrapping and mailing of parcels, it was pointed out at the postoffice today.

Suggestions to insure prompt delivery and to guard against breakage have been outlined as follows:

The average number of parcels in a mail sack is 15.

The average weight of each filled sack is 55 pounds.

The average car load of mail consists of 1,100 sacks.

The average weight per car load is 30 tons.

Your parcel may be in the sack at the bottom of the pile. Pack your parcel with that thought in mind.

Avoid flimsy cardboard boxes. Use fibre or corrugated pasteboard. Old shipping containers or cartons of such material may be obtained at almost any store. Use plenty of excelsior, old newspapers or other packing material to surround the articles and to fill all vacant space in the carton or package.

Be sure to remove all previously used address labels and postage stamps from such cartons.

It is advised to use a gummed label for the address.

Be sure your return address is shown on the parcel.

Do not write with pencil—use ink.

Be sure to give full address, street and number of rural route box.

Put an exact duplicate of the address and return card in the parcel.

If you use wrapping paper, use a good strong quality of such paper.

Avoid the thin, fancy kinds for the outside covering.

Be securely wrapped with heavy, stout cord. Do not use light, weak string or twine.

You can write "Merry Christmas—from Jimmie to Mimmie" on a slip fastened to an article, but you must not write anything else.

You may write on the outside "Do not open until Christmas."

Seals and stickers may be placed on the back of parcels, but not on the address side. Be careful in affixing such stickers that you do not seal the package.

Remember that all trains do not carry mail. And blizzards, washouts, heavy travel and similar occurrences delay the trains. Then there must be some time used at the office of destination in assorting, routing and delivering your parcels.

No rural routes will operate, and all postoffices will close at 11 a. m. on Christmas day. The earlier the parcel is mailed the better chance it has to get through to destination on time and in good condition.

Do not guess the weight. Have it weighed.

With the aid of the Salvation Army kettle and many more little children, the Daily Republican-Salvation Army Santa Claus fund showed a gain of almost $12.00 today.

It is becoming more apparent daily that the children of Rushville want to be certain that none of their little friends spend a cheerless day on Christmas, but they will have to have the aid of their parents and older friends if Santa Claus is going to have all he needs to spread Christmas cheer in the proper way.

The dimes from the little folks (and many of them have given 25 cents, fifty cents and one dollar) do not count up very rapidly and some of the grownups will have to awaken

DEFENSE CLAIMS A SIGNIFICANT VICTORY

Draws From Elias Mortimer, Government Witness, That Col. Forbes Investigated Thompson's Firm

BUREAU FRAUD CASE HEARING

Federal Court Room, Chicago, Ill., Dec. 9—Col Charles R. Forbes, former head of the Veteran's bureau "investigated" John W. Thompson and ascertained his firm of Thompson and Black was upright, honest and reliable, before granting him contracts to build government hospitals, Elias Mortimer, testified today in the Forbes-Thompson fraud trial case.

This testimony was drawn from Mortimer on cross-examination by James Smith, counsel for Forbes. Mortimer is the government's star witness in its effort to convict Forbes and Thompson on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in letting contracts for veteran's hospitals.

The defense considered this a significant victory, claiming they had proved Forbes sought able contractors and was not influenced by bribes as claimed by the government.

'VOODOO DOCTOR' IN SUIT CHARGING FRAUD

Henriette Beyer of Sandusky Claims She Was Defrauded by John R. Trusler and Wife

NEITHER READS NOR WRITES

Henriette Beyer of Sandusky, known as the "Voodoo Doctor," has filed suit in the circuit court at Greensburg, through C. W. Duncan, her attorney of this city, charging John R. Trusler and Effie Trusler, his wife with defrauding her out of a piece of property valued at $1,500 in Sandusky.

The plaintiff alleges that she can neither read nor write, is uneducated and incapable of transacting such business and that she engaged Trusler, the defendant, as her bookkeeper and agent.

She avers that on the 24th day of May she gave Trusler $1,500 with which to purchase the said lot from Mort Williamson, Berta Williamson, Emma Brockelmeier, Albert Brockelmeier Thomas Draper, Clara Draper Effie Brown and Frank Brown.

It is alleged that the defendant Trusler made the purchase as directed but had the deed made in his name and that the title is now vested in he and his wife and that they and each of them are refusing to convey same to the plaintiff, Henrietta Beyer, who claims to be the rightful owner.

E. H. LYLE SPEAKS TO ROTARY CLUB

Representative of Sheldon School of Business Discusses Basic Instincts in Life

AND THEIR WRONGFUL USE

Men Who Think of Nothing But Plucking, Instead of Being Helpful Are Headed to Destruction

When greed leads men to use the basic instincts of mankind—self preservation and self perpetuation—to minister to his selfish ends, then follows in their train everything that is devilish, according to E. H. Lyle of Indianapolis, representative of the Sheldon School of Business of Chicago, who spoke to the Rotary club at the noonday luncheon at the Social club today.

When the opposite trend is taken when men use these basic fundamentals of life for the betterment of society, he said, they will have made their community better and will have accomplished some good in the world.

Mr. Lyle, who is familiar with the teachings of Rotary through his association with Arthur Frederick Sheldon, head of the Sheldon school and the man who gave Rotary its motto, "Service above Self," was invited to make a "Rotary Education" address on the fifth object of Rotary—"the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupation and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society."

The primary purpose of food is to sustain the body and the primary purpose of clothing is to clothe the body, Mr. Lyle pointed out, yet we attempt to load our tables with finer food than others have, we try to live in better houses than our neighbors and endeavor to adorn our bodies with finer clothes than others wear.

"These two basic instincts have been the fair ladies that have led men on to destruction and that have led nations to their downfall," he said. "Old civilizations of the past have fallen because these two basic instincts controlled the minds of men."

"They are the groundwork of life. If they are not protected, Rotary can accomplish nothing. Unless Rotarians understand why these instincts are implanted in them, they can not achieve the purposes to which Rotary is dedicated."

"I know there is something of the hog and fox in man—cunning and greed. Too often we uphold in business the man who is shrewd enough not to be caught. But when he is caught we condemn him, though we have condoned what he has been doing."

"The ordinary man thinks of his community as a quarrryman thinks of a stone quarry—a place to make a living. How do we think of men with whom we are associated in business. Do we ever think of being helpful to them?"

"The time is coming when it will be a disgrace to the community for a business man to fail. If he is

IF THEY KILL ANY RABBITS

Men of Presbyterian Church Will Have Rabbit for Dinner Thursday

The men of the First Presbyterian church are having a dinner Thursday night of this week at 6:30. Paul R. Benson of Newcastle is the speaker. There will be other entertaining numbers on the program and a good social time is being planned. The mighty Nimrods of the church are out doing their best and if successful Mr. Brer Rabbit will be part of the bill of fare.

This is the first of a series of three meetings to be held this winter. The speaker comes most highly recommended. His subject will be "Spiritual Values in Business." He is a son of the famous Luther Benson and was formerly a Rush county boy. His many friends will be very glad to hear him.

to the necessity of giving in order to insure a happy Christmas for every child in Rushville.

The needy poor and old people will also be remembered with Christmas dinners. Forty baskets of food, each one containing a chicken and other ingredients of a Christmas dinner, were distributed by the fund last year, and it is regarded as practically certain that equally as many will be needed this year.

The Salvation Army kettle made its first appearance on the streets Monday and made a very creditable showing. The kettle will be on the job daily until Christmas, and will be in charge of Captain Parsons or Mrs. Parsons of the Salvation Army.

The peals of the bell in their hands calls the attention of everyone to the fact that the happy Christmas time is approaching and that through the Salvation Army Christmas can be made a cheerful day for the unfortunate.

Christmas Savings

Nothing has ever appealed to the American's sense of thrift quite like a Christmas savings club. Ten years ago the combined savings of all the clubs in the United States were estimated at $28,000,000; this year they amount to $241,600,000, almost ten times as much.

The idea has been criticized because it persuades people to save to spend. But even so, investigation has shown that only forty-five per cent of the money saved in this manner is spent for Christmas gifts and other luxuries and twenty-eight per cent is redeposited in savings or checking accounts. The balance goes for essentials.

If none of the money saved in Christmas savings clubs were actually saved, they would promote the spirit of thrift and teach those who participate what can be accomplished by persistent saving.

The Christmas savings clubs will do more than all of the preaching on frugality and thriftiness conceivable. They give a realistic demonstration of what can be done by putting by a fixed sum each week.

Once convinced of what regular saving will do, the average person is going to strive to save for whatever objective he may have in life.

When Decay Sets in

Any individual who thinks he is better than anyone else is rushing headlong into trouble.

Any social, civic or business organization that gets the idea it is superior to all others is going to come upon breakers sooner or later.

Any community that boasts of being better than its neighbors is li-ble to decay unless it is constantly seeking to improve itself.

Business consists in generosity. To prosper it is necessary to give—and this applies to communities just as it does to individuals and organizations of individuals.

No one has any corner on excellence. Those who realize their shortcomings and are constantly seeking to overcome them, will come nearer attaining their goal than those who travel the path of self-righteousness and egotistical self-satisfaction.

Having pride in the place you live and boasting of its good points is to be commended, but such an attitude is a millstone on the neck of the community unless words are backed up by deeds.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
Thursday, December 9, 1909

Fire of unknown origin was discovered in the home of Kirby Smith in East Fifth street this morning about four o'clock by Carl Cruise, a next door neighbor. The Smith family was not at home and a considerable amount of furniture was damaged by the blaze and water. The fire is believed to be the work of an incendiary as everything points to that end. The members of the family have not been in the house since Sunday as Smith is employed in Indianapolis and his wife and children accompanied him back there. The blaze found in so many different places all at one time makes the belief stronger that it was of incendiary origin.

The money has been coming in fast for the Santa Claus fund since four o'clock yesterday afternoon. The cold breezes have made people think more about Christmas and they are coming to the rescue nobly. The total to date is $39.83.

Merrill Ball and William Gatewood went to Rushville last Saturday on business. (Rural Route 7 and 8 correspondent)

Thos H. Reed and Son are paying the following prices for grain: wheat $1.18; new corn per bushel 50c; clover seed, per bu. 7 to $8. Produce: spring chickens 10c; hens on foot, 10c; geese 6c; turkeys, 15c; eggs per dozen 26c; butter, country per pound 26c.

Harry Wyatt got his start as a messenger boy at the Western Union and later became an expert telegrapher.

John D. Megee is still a baseball fan and played in a game against the Cincinnati Reds when he was a young man.

Mrs. J. B. Kinsinger and children left this afternoon for Oklahoma where they will spend the winter with Mrs. Kinsinger's parents.

Mrs. Don Casady is ill at her home west of this city with chicken pox.

Miss Stella Conners went to Cambridge City this morning to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes who formerly lived here.

Word has been received here that Miss Marjorie, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. P. McGarey, former pastor of the United Presbyterian church here, is dangerously ill with diphtheria.

Chase Brooks has resigned his position at the Palace theatre.

Harry, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Curt Evans, who suffered a broken leg Monday evening, is gradually improving.

The circuit court got cold feet today. In fact the court and all the attaches got cold all over. So the assembly room was transformed into a room of justice and the sessions were held there. The roof is being repaired at the court house and the heat was not working well, so it was necessary for the court to abandon the regular room and go down stairs where it was warmer.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT

A Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Old timers in Kansas, whose crops were devastated by the plague of grasshoppers which swept the prairies in 1874, couldn't, of course, know that they were simply paying in advance, the price of making a Kansas boy majority leader in the United States Senate in 1924.

Students of cause and effect, however, if they will examine the facts must inevitably decide that is exactly what happened.

For if it hadn't been for the grasshoppers, Charley Curtis would not have severed, when he did his life with the Kansas tribe of Indians, and the whole course of his later years probably would have been changed.

YOUNG CURTIS was at that time a lad of 14. He had lived intermittently, following his mother's death when he was three, with his father's folks in Topeka and with his mother's people in the Kansas tribe of Indians. During this period his maternal grandmother, Julie Pappan, who was one-half Indian, was his constant guide and counselor.

He had attended the mission school at the Kansas Indian Reservation, when with his grandmother, and the town grammar school when in Topeka.

When the grasshopper plague hit the state however, the Indians decided on an exodus down into the Indian Territory where the pastures had not been stripped. It was determined Charley should go with his maternal grandparents.

One night while they were in camp about six miles east of Topeka, with everything ready for hitting the trail for the "Territory," Grandmother Pappan called the boy to her. Briefly, she told him that while he was one-eighth Indian he was seven-eighths white, and that if he expected to make a success in life he must cast his lot with the white men. She urged him to stay in Topeka, go to school and "make something of himself."

CHARLEY stayed. He sold fruit at trains and did odd jobs to earn money through that winter.

Next spring he got a job riding running horses and soon branched out as a full-fledged jockey. His success in the saddle won him a chance to make a swing 'round the circuit in the winter of '76, and he had about decided to give up school and keep with the races when his paternal grandmother, Cornelia Curtis, persuaded him again to stick by his books.

So he stuck it out in Topeka, getting all the education the public schools there offered and learning still more by a period of reporting on the North Topeka Times.

In this job he developed his contacts with people—a thing which was later to prove most valuable to him in politics. He came to know almost every man, woman and child in Shawnee county.

IN '79, when 19 years of age, the district court conferred the rights of majority upon him. So he became "his own man" at 19 instead of 21. In that same year he began the study of law with A. H. Case in Topeka. He was admitted to practice in '81, and in '84 made his first venture into politics, getting himself elected county prosecutor.

In this office, which he held for two terms, he made a record seldom equaled: He lost but three cases his first year, only one the second and none at all in his third and fourth years.

NEXT came Congress. First as representative, then as senator, he has served a total of 26 years in Washington—10 in the House and 16 in the Senate. In the House—perhaps because he had learned how to wield one as a jockey—he was assistant "whip."

On coming to the Senate he was made assistant to Murray Crane of Massachusetts, then whip, and succeeded to the position of whip when Crane retired in 1911.

That position he held throughout the rest of his senatorial career until advanced to the Republican leadership following the death of Senator Lodge.

A taciturn, self-contained individual is Curtis, as befits his Indian ancestry. Swarthy of skin, powerful of build, with a square jaw and a firm hand, he looks able to lead by sheer force should persuasion fail.

In person and personality he is the exact opposite of the leader he succeeds.

But then Lodge could only trace his Americanism back to the Mayflower. Curtis' folks were here some centuries before that!

TODAY'S CROSS WORD PUZZLE

Why do still waters always run deep?

ANSWER TO MONDAY'S PUZZLE

The C. W. P. editor feels that none of his readers was any more puzzled over the old stitch-in-time-saves-nine-half-truth than he was. He studiously set about to solve the puzzle, skeptical all the while as to its genuineness.

It has been his observation (not experience) that a hole in the seat of the trousers is much more easily mended when first discovered, than if allowed to wear on.

After due deliberation upon the facts at hand, which may not be all of them, he has concluded that a stitch in time never saves more than five or six at the most. The time element, of course, enters largely into the consideration of the subject.

Some holes would never require nine stitches if allowed to run on forever, and others couldn't be mended with a whole spool of thread.

It is a topic that is recommended to cross word puzzle fans who want something they can stick to. Although old, it is not threadbare.

Scott's Emulsion

Prosperity and Gasoline

Genuine prosperity is with us when all men are employed creating new wealth—new merchandise—which is passed to the consuming public at prices which give them full value for the money spent.

New wealth is active wealth and active wealth, like active labor, is that which is employed making the world a better, happier place in which to live.

The man who owns an oil well is not prosperous unless there is an active demand for his oil. The mere possession of oil signifies nothing—it is of no profit. It is valuable only when it is put to use.

The main function of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is to make oil usable and to put the finished products where people can get them without effort.

By bringing oil products within the reach of everyone, at prices low enough to make them available to all, this Company creates new wealth and makes it active and usable.

A gallon of gasoline manufactured by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has a definite economic value, because it represents a potential service when put to use in a running motor.

The power—the service—latent in this gasoline will propel your car 8 to 22 miles in the pursuit of business or pleasure.

In using it you derive pleasure or profit—or both—and by using it you are adding to the general prosperity—by releasing a definite amount of capital for further use.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) serves you through its scientific discoveries, through its progressive use of chemical knowledge, through its efficient refinery administration, through its modern business organization, through its forward-looking labor policy, and through the high quality and wide distribution of its products.

All these functions of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are at the service of every one who needs and buys a gallon of gasoline. The man who drives a Ford commands the immense resources of this organization as truly as does the man who operates a fleet of trucks.

Get Revenge For Defeat Last Season at Same Time

WILL BE PLAYED AT FALMOUTH

The Fairview Athletic club will meet their stiffest opposition of the season Thursday night when the Morgantown Independents will journey to Falmouth for the game.

The Morgantown team is among the best in the state. In the tourney for independent teams last spring at Indianapolis, they were the runners-up in the final game, and in the semi-finals defeated Fairview by two points. The Fairview team is anxious to get revenge from them. And the regular players will be used—Cook, Patton, Seales, Royalty, Peters, Reynolds, Craig and Winters.

Morgantown has several Martinsville high school and college players in its line-up. Schwaier, one of last year's stars on the Martinsville high school, state champs, is playing center for Morgantown and is reputed to be one of the fastest in the state. This team comes to Fairview with a whole string of victories and Fairview will make an effort to keep their record clean by winning.

The doors to the gym will be open at 6:45 and the game will start promptly at 8 p. m. No preliminary game will be played so as to give the visiting team plenty of time for their return home.

ALL ABOARD THE SPECIAL TO COLUMBUS! IF YOU ARE GOING GET YOUR NAME ON THE LIST. CALL 1522 AND TELL PRINCIPAL E. B. BUTLER THAT YOU ARE GOING.

The game Friday night will be the hardest for several weeks on the Lions schedule. Columbus has a team this year that is better than any before. It will take real playing to beat them. The Lions have the fight and snap. Let's boost 'em to the limit.

The main thing is to get started early, and keep the lead. Hit the basket, and hold tight to your defense. The defense was a little weak against Hagerstown; don't let 'em bust through.

NO. 9 FOR SPICELAND

Carmel must have a sweet team. They took Spiceland down the line 80 to 23.

RAN OUT OF CHALK

Markin' 'em Up of Newcastle says that the school house is convenient to the gym at Spiceland, so that the score keepers don't have so far to run after chalk.

Hopewell Smothers Whiteland, 99 to 11, says headline in Franklin Star. Guess Hopewell is hittin' their stride these days, as well as a few weeks ago, when they played here.

THIS IS NO DREAM, EITHER. Something tells us that Friday night, Lakin, Newbold and Arbuckle are going to hit that basket from all angles, and that McNamara will be right there to smash through for several shots. Miller is going to guard that basket like a veteran. If all five cylinders are working, the Roarin' Lions will make the Bull Dogs bark sound weak.

The Bull Pups and the Lion's Cubs will tangle in the curtain raiser. The Pups will be a hard team to down, but the Cubs so far have played teams that were stubborn, and they sorta like 'em.

News for Connersville: Rushville school officials have sent over 200 tickets for that "Battle of the Century" for December 19. Sorry we couldn't spare any more, but there will be room for others if they can have the patience to wait in line before the gates swing open.

SURE, MIKE IS A STAR!

Dear "Basket Bawls": Speaking of stars, here's what I'd call a team of moving stars: Arbuckle, of Rushville, forward Lloyd of Lapel, forward Turpin of Bloomington, center Terry of Logansport, guard, Murry of Grass Creek, guard.

For substitutes I suggest Fox of Seymour and Compton of Williamsburg. Don't you think this outfit would win the silver sheet?

Yours truly
Wash Ingtou
—Basket Bawls, Washington

Perhaps They Know by This Time

Seek as we might in the printed scores we find no reference to the Rushville Lions, who had gone forth with the grim determination to "Cage Hagerstown". We'd like to learn the score before the Lions come here next week.

—Hardwood Hammer, Columbus

THOSE SIX HORSEMEN

We think Rushville has a good team and played well at Hagerstown but the Spartans will "tame" them Lions' plenty. SIX HORSEMEN

—Side Lights, Connersville

Here is a Tall Story

The following from the Greencastle Banner, Pass and Shoot, concerns the game last Friday between Columbus and Greencastle:

The C. I. S. Cubs can come back. The last half was 13-10 for Columbus. It was much better than 22-4 in the first half. Columbus should take warning from that last period.

Columbus sure looked spiffy

in their new blue and white suits and sweaters. They played spiffy ball too.

Every man stands six feet or better which sounds like an awful tall story.

So the Lions can see what you will be up against. Tall team, spiffy ball playing and spiffy suits! Of course we don't care about the suits, but don't let 'em display too much of that spiffy playing. As said before, the Bull Dogs get started early. Don't let 'em do it.

OH BOY, WE STARTED SOMETHING!

"Hittin' 'em", Rushville Republican says: the Connersville schedule sorta sounds like the schedule that Washington has, Elnora and Fritchton, hey George? He didn't say a word about Spiceland, Hagerstown and a few others that appear on the Lions' schedule.

—Basket Bawls, Washington

Probably not, but Hagerstown could wallop any team in that neck of the woods, outside of Vincennes, or probably Washington. Of course, all schedules can't be made up of state champs.

POETRY FROM C'VILLE

Just a few lines to express my poetic feelings:
On December 19th in '24
There's a fight with Rushville on their floor
The fight of ages as you may know
Come on Spartans, let's make it a go!
On the night of the game I'll be there
With many C-ville people we'll give 'em a scare
"Tame Them Lions" that's my motto
Come on, Spartans, let's make it a go!
AL K. HALL

E. H. LYLE SPEAKS TO THE ROTARY CLUB

worthy, other business men will rally to his support and see him through. We are going to come to see that we are in reality our brother's keeper; are going to see how business men can be helpful, one to the other.

"If Lincoln were living today, he would say that you can't fool very many of the people very much of the time. People are thinking more than they once did."

"If you are thinking of nothing but plucking, instead of being helpful destruction is ahead for you." Mr. Lyle stated in conclusion. "If you will but say to yourself 'The only thing worth while is to use the God-given power I have to make life a little sweeter, a little more wholesome and I am glad I have that opportunity' when you come to the end, you will know that you have misused the basic instincts with which you were entrusted."

Indian Star May Turn Pro

John Levi, most colorful Indian athlete since the days of Jim Thorpe, has played his last game as a collegian. The famous Haskell star will probably turn professional.

Sets Record

Iowa's star runner, Harold Phelps, goes down in the books as the first athlete to win the Big Ten cross-country race two times in succession. Phelps won in 1923 and repeated in the recent event. He is eligible for the run again next year and is considered a sure winner if he starts.

ASKS COMMISSION FOR FACTS

Senate Resolution Calls For Information Regarding Packers

Washington, Dec. 8.—A resolution calling upon the federal trade commission to report all facts concerning an alleged attempt of the "Big Five" packers to secure modification of a recent court decree against them, was adopted today by the senate. The decree restrains the packers from competing in the wholesale grocery trade.

The resolution states that the packers are fighting the decree and that in as much as "public policies are involved" the commission should furnish the senate with information as to whether the action of the packers is justified and whether if the packers succeed in vacating the decree it will prove detrimental to the public interest.

The resolution was introduced by Senator Norris of Nebraska, a leader of the middle-western farm group.

Fans Want Something New

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Dec. 9.—Success of the New York Boxing Commission in arranging the first of the elimination rounds in the tournament to decide the successor to the world's featherweight championship may start a new vogue. Boxing needs a lot of new vogue, because it is going along like it did fifty years ago and times certainly have been changed since then.

Baseball rules are changed frequently to keep the game abreast of modern conditions. The rules, of course, haven't been altered radically but when modern times brought about the trick of tampering with the ball, the rule makers got busy and legislated the spitter, the shiner, the emery ball and other trick deliveries out of the game.

Football and basketball rules are being changed continually and golf, one of the very oldest of popular games, has been kept up with the times by legislators. Tennis, based upon fundamentals that hardly could be changed, has had frequent rule changes to meet problems that didn't exist in the old days.

Until the Walker Boxing Bill was passed in New York there had been no serious attempt made to get a modern set of rules that would bring the game up to date. There were only the London prize rules and the Marquis of Queensberry rules. Neither set of rules was thoroughly understood either by boxers or referees and the conduct of a bout reached the point where most anything went as long as it was above the belt. The violation of the rule

Popular Use Of Furs

THIS coat illustrates the popular tendency to use fur in a decorative way instead of in the conventional bandings. Here you see a border design made of bits of the same seal that forms the collar, cuffs and hem. It makes an otherwise quite conventional looking garment very distinctive.

"Madonna of the Streets," Edwin Carewe's latest picture featuring Nazimova and Milton Sills, opened last night at the Princess theatre, where it will be shown again tonight. The picture is the first of the famous Russian actress has appeared in since she deserted the cinema for vaudeville and the legitimate stage two years ago.

"Madonna of the Streets," a story of London, is taken from "The Ragged Messenger," by W. B. Maxwell, an English author of worldwide popularity. The book has been acclaimed as one of the most notable literary products of the modern school of English authors, and the scenario is the best that Nazimova has ever chosen. The picture is not only interesting in itself because of its story interest, but it allows both Nazimova and Sills to show their best acting ability.

the friend of a Fifth avenue millionaire, who, cut off in his will when he leaves his vast fortune to John Morton of London, sets out to make Morton pay the ungrateful millionaire's debt to her. Morton, played by Sills, receives the fortune and begins to give it away among the poor of Limehouse. The former friend marries the clergyman and objects to his using the fortune in this manner when she believes she is entitled to some consideration. How it all works out is told in a tremendously powerful manner which finds Nazimova registering with more dramatic effect than in anything she has ever achieved.

Christmas Suggestions

A Hint to Shoppers

There are a lot of presents you might give—presents that will be gone in a day or two, forgotten in a short time, laid aside or worn out. It is easy to make such gifts. Most people do.

But if you wish to place yourself out of the class of ordinary givers, if you wish to get away from the commonplace in your Christmas presents, consider this:

Except for children, every normal man and woman has one open avenue of approach. We all love our ease. Comfort is dear to the hearts of us all. Therefore, give something that will give comfort. Something that the recipient will appreciate so greatly that it will be quickly replaced if it ever wears out. This, after all, is the true test of all gifts. "Is it wanted enough to be replaced, should replacement become necessary?" If the answer is "Yes," the gift is ideal.

But—best of all—such gifts do not wear out easily. Their original cost frequently exceeds that of commonplace gifts—but our convenient credit terms will offset this comparatively unimportant point.

For example, gifts of thoughtfulness for all the family:

For Father

An easy chair in which to take his comfort after a hard day's work. A smoker's lamp to make the evening paper more enjoyable. An ash tray in all his favorite corners, to save his running around, looking for a place to empty his pipe or dispose of his cigar ashes. A shaving mirror, to take the risk from shaving.

For Mother

A comfortable chair for her sewing. An end-table for her book or magazine at the arm of the davenport. A genuine McDougall Kitchen Cabinet to make her work easier during the day and to leave her rested enough, when evening comes, to enjoy herself. A sewing table to lighten this part of her work.

For Son

An easy chair as comfortable as dad's. A desk and good lamp for his room, if he needs them. A smokers' stand to place beside his bed. A bookcase or card table.

For Daughter

If married, a McDougall — to keep her young by conserving her strength and health. A vanity dresser and stool for her room. Boudoir lamps. A polychrome mirror. A floor lamp or bridge lamp to brighten up that dark corner.

For the Home

A new three-piece suite for your living room — so that you all may be glad to invite your friends. An artistic mirror, to lend a note of welcome and hospitality to your hall. An attractive desk to make the hall more friendly. A McDougall, so that you may be proud of your kitchen. A Davenport-Bed, to take care of extra guests.

READ THIS:

Nothing mentioned above is "out of your reach." Convenient credit terms enable all to enjoy the comforts listed here. A down payment so low that you hardly will miss it will bring to your home the "Comfort Gift" you want—and still leave plenty of ready cash for your extra shopping.

Be different, this Christmas. Come in and let us explain exactly how. No obligation, of course.

LIVING WITH-OUT A STOMACH

That's about how it is when your stomach is in first class order, you hardly know that you have one.

But what a difference when it isn't working right! You begin to think it is about the worst enemy you have and that it will get you sooner or later. You wish you could get along without it.

You need not get to that state if you will take care of the one you have. Treat it right by eating right, the things it should have, and not overeat.

If you haven't taken care of it, and are bothered with indigestion, you can still help it out with Di-Jo. Here's a real aid to digestion. It is surprising how quickly you can be relieved of that heavy overloaded feeling after meals. Di-Jo Tablets taken after meals help your stomach digest the food. They help prevent gas and that bloating. Their ingredients are intended to absorb that gas. They neutralize the acid condition in the stomach, and help you get rid of that unpleasant belching and sour stomach. Just a few tablets necessary.

The various drugs used in Di-Jo are the same as those prescribed by very many family physicians for indigestion and deranged stomachs. Di-Jo is compounded by one of the best pharmacists in America. They are absolutely harmless.

Better get a bottle and either relieve your present disorder, or be prepared in case you should overeat or your stomach weaken and get you into misery. Your nearest druggist sells them.

If you are troubled with constipation take DI-VAC. It is sold by all druggists and is recommended as the proper laxative to be used in connection with Di-Jo, if any is needed.

SPEEDY JUSTICE IN THE CIRCUIT COURT

Teddy Palmer Sentenced to Reformatory For One to Eight Years Soon After Arrest

BROKE INTO FREIGHT DEPOT

Confesses Stealing Package Containing Two Comforts; Also Coffee Pots—Fred Bright Held

Speedy justice was meted out Monday afternoon in the circuit court, following the arrest of Teddy Palmer shortly before noon on a charge of larceny, and sentencing him to the state reformatory for a period of one to eight years, within a few hours after his arrest.

Palmer was arrested as a suspect of robbing the Big Four depot in this city last Thursday night. The robbery was discovered early Friday and a package was missing from the freight department. Captain Neal of the detective force was summoned and was working on the local matter with Sheriff Hunt.

The robbery was not made public. Sheriff Hunt arrested Palmer Monday morning on suspicion. Fred Bright also was arrested Monday afternoon by Police Chief Blackburn on a charge of receiving stolen goods and is held in jail on that charge.

After he was pinned down by the officers at noon yesterday, Palmer is said to have confessed to the theft at the station. The package that was stolen consisted of two bed comforts.

On Thursday evening, according to the officers, Palmer and Bright were in the rear of the A. G. Haydon hardware store gathering old paper, and Palmer admitted stealing two copper coffee pots, nickle-plated, valued at $2.25 a piece. He sold these, according to the officers, for the sum of fifteen cents to Fred Bright.

Later Palmer refunded Bright the money, and requested the two pots, but Bright refused, and the charge of receiving stolen goods was launched against him.

Palmer gave his age as 18 years, when arraigned before Judge Sparks Monday afternoon, and as he made a confession, he entered a plea of guilty to the charge.

He was fined $9 and costs, the value of the goods stolen, and given a term of not less than one, nor more than eight years at the reformatory.

Bright is held to answer to the charge of receiving stolen goods, and will be arraigned later.

DROP OF 41 DEGREES IS RECORDED IN THE COUNTY

Temperature Declines Rapidly During Night, Reaching 23 Degrees Above Zero

ABNORMAL PAST FEW DAYS

A drop of 41 degrees was recorded in Rush county in a little more than twelve hours from noon Monday, according to Elwood Kirkwood of Manzy, in charge of the government thermometer.

The highest reached Monday was shortly after noon when the mercury was standing at 64 degrees, and after a heavy downpour of rain, the sky began to clear and the weather got much colder, with the mercury falling to 23 degrees above zero during the night, and making a drop of the 41 degrees.

The sudden departure from the high level of yesterday was noticeable to a great extent, although the temperature today was near normal. The abnormal temperature of the past few days made the contrast greater.

The weather bureau predicts fair weather for tonight and Wednesday, with slightly colder temperature tonight.

HEARING IS POSTPONED
The suit of Grover Wagoner and his wife, an action for surety of peace proceedings, has been postponed again from Wednesday, until some later date, according to John P. Stech, justice of the peace in whose court the action was filed.

CLAIMS AGAINST ESTATES

Four civil suits were filed today in the circuit court, one action being to set aside a conveyance, two suits being on claims against estates, and the fourth a complaint on a note.

Hugh Bronnenburg and others are plaintiffs in an action filed against Emma C. Caldwell and others, in which the plaintiffs are seeking to have a deed to real estate involved in the settlement of the Alice Jones estate, set aside. The plaintiffs charge that the property was falsely conveyed, and that the court should partition the property, appoint a commissioner to sell and dispose of the interest involved.

Two suits on claims were filed, one by Canillus A. Bowen against the estate of Sarah Ann Bowen for $1,011.22 and the other a complaint against the estate of George B. Moore, Sr., by Henry C. Moore, with the demand for $40.

The Adam H. Bartel Company of Richmond has filed suit against Walter S. Mansfield of Milroy, demanding judgment for $800 on a note alleged to be past due.

WHETTING HIS APPETITE

Obedying Early Mailing Rules Will Help Make Christmas a Merry One

Postal Authorities Call Attention to Necessity of Following Suggestions in Order to Insure Delivery of Christmas Parcels

Christmas can be made a much happier day than it would otherwise be by following the suggestions of postal authorities in the wrapping and mailing of parcels, it was pointed out at the postoffice today.

Suggestions to insure prompt delivery and to guard against breakage have been outlined as follows:

- The average number of parcels in a mail sack is 15.
- The average weight of each filled sack is 35 pounds.
- The average car load of mail consists of 1,100 sacks.
- The average weight per car load is 30 tons.

Your parcel may be in the sack at the bottom of the pile.

Use firm cardboard boxes.

Old shipping containers or cartons of such material may be obtained at almost any store. Use plenty of excelsior, old newspapers or other packing material to surround the articles and to fill all vacant space in the carton or package.

Be sure to remove all previously used address labels and postage stamps from such carton.

It is advised to use a gummed label for the address.

Be sure your return address is shown on the parcel.

Do not write with pencil—use ink.

Be sure to give full address, street and number of rural route box.

Put an exact duplicate of the address and return card in the parcel.

If you use wrapping paper, use a good strong quality of such paper.

Avoid the thin, fancy kinds for the outside covering.

Tie securely with heavy, stout cord. Do not use light, weak string or twine.

You can write "Merry Christmas—From Jimmie to Minnie" on a slip fastened to an article, but you must not write anything else.

You may write on the outside "Do not open until Christmas." Seals and stickers may be placed on the back of parcels, but not on the address side. Be careful in affixing such stickers that you do not seal the package.

Remember that all trains do not carry mail. And blizzards, washouts, heavy travel and similar occurrences delay the trains. Then there must be some time used at the office of destination in assorting, routing and delivering your parcels.

No rural routes will operate, and all postoffices will close at 11 a. m. on Christmas day. The earlier the parcel is mailed the better chance it has to get through to destination on time and in good condition. Do not guess the weight. Have it Continued on Page Five

With the aid of the Salvation Army kettle and many more little children, the Daily Republican-Salvation Army Santa Claus fund showed a gain of almost $12.00 today.

It is becoming more apparent daily that the children of Rushville want to be certain that none of their little friends spend a cheerless day on Christmas, but they will have to have the aid of their parents and older friends if Santa Claus is going to have all he needs to spread Christmas cheer in the proper way.

The dimes from the little folks (and many of them have given 25 cents, fifty cents and one dollar) do not count up very rapidly and some of the grownups will have to awaken

DEFENSE CLAIMS A SIGNIFICANT VICTORY

Draws From Elias Mortimer, Government Witness, That Col. Forbes Investigated Thompson's Firm

BUREAU FRAUD CASE HEARING

Federal Court Room, Chicago, Ill., Dec. 9—Col Charles R. Forbes, former head of the Veteran's bureau "investigated" John W. Thompson and ascertained his firm of Thompson and Black was upright, honest and reliable, before granting him contracts to build government hospitals, Elias Mortimer, testified today in the Forbes-Thompson fraud trial case.

This testimony was drawn from Mortimer on cross-examination by James Smith, counsel for Forbes. Mortimer is the government's star witness in its effort to convict Forbes and Thompson on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in letting contracts for veteran's hospitals.

The defense considered this a significant victory, claiming they had proved Forbes sought able contractors and was not influenced by bribes as claimed by the government.

'VOODOO DOCTOR' IN SUIT CHARGING FRAUD

Henriette Beyer of Sandusky Claims She Was Defrauded by John R. Trusler and Wife

NEITHER READS NOR WRITES

Henriette Beyer of Sandusky, known as the "Voodoo Doctor," has filed suit in the circuit court at Greensburg, through C. W. Duncan, here attorney of this city, charging John R. Trusler and Effie Trusler, his wife with defrauding her out of a piece of property valued at $1,500 in Sandusky.

The plaintiff alleges that she can neither read nor write, is uneducated and incapable of transacting such business and that she engaged Trusler, the defendant, as her book-keeper and agent.

She avers that on the 24th day of May she gave Trusler $1,500 with which to purchase the said lot from Mort Williamson, Berta Williamson, Emma Brockelmeier, Albert Brockelmeier Thomas Draper, Clara Draper Effie Brown and Frank Brown.

It is alleged that the defendant Trusler made the purchase as directed but had the deed made in his name and that the title is now vested in he and his wife and that they and each of them are refusing to convey same to the plaintiff, Henriette Beyer, who claims to be the rightful owner.

E. H. LYLE SPEAKS TO ROTARY CLUB

Representative of Sheldon School of Business Discusses Basic Instincts in Life

AND THEIR WRONGFUL USE

Men Who Think of Nothing But Plucking, Instead of Being Helpful Are Headed to Destruction

When greed leads men to use the basic instincts of mankind—self preservation and self perpetuation—to minister to his selfish ends, then follows in their train everything that is devilish, according to E. H. Lyle of Indianapolis, representative of the Sheldon School of Business of Chicago, who spoke to the Rotary club at the noonday luncheon at the Social club today.

When the opposite trend is taken when men use these basic fundamentals of life for the betterment of society, he said, they will have made their community better and will have accomplished some good in the world.

Mr. Lyle, who is familiar with the teachings of Rotary through his association with Arthur Frederick Sheldon, head of the Sheldon school and the man who gave Rotary its motto, "Service above Self," was invited to make a "Rotary Education" address on the fifth object of Rotary—"the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupation and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society."

The primary purpose of food is to sustain the body and the primary purpose of clothing is to clothe the body, Mr. Lyle pointed out, yet we attempt to load our tables with finer food than others have, we try to live in better houses than our neighbors and endeavor to adorn our bodies with finer clothes than others wear.

These two basic instincts have been the fair ladies that have led men on to destruction and that have led nations to their downfall," he said. "Old civilizations of the past have fallen because these two basic instincts controlled the minds of men."

"They are the groundwork of life. If they are not protected, Rotary can accomplish nothing. Unless Rotarians understand why these instincts are implanted in them, they can not achieve the purposes to which Rotary is dedicated."

"I know there is something of the hog and fox in man—cunning and greed. Too often we uphold in business the man who is shrewd enough not to be caught. But when he is caught we condemn him, though we have condoned what he has been doing."

"The ordinary man thinks of his community as a quarryman thinks of a stone quarry—a place to make a living. How do we think of men with whom we are associated in business. Do we ever think of being helpful to them?"

"The time is coming when it will be a disgrace to the community for a business man to fail. If he is Continued on Page Five

IF THEY KILL ANY RABBITS

This is the first of a series of three meetings to be held this winter. The speaker comes most highly recommended. His subject will be "Spiritual Values in Business." He is a son of the famous Luther Benson and was formerly a Rush county boy. His many friends will be very glad to hear him.

WALKER WHITESIDES IN "SAKURA"

Walker Whitesides will be seen at the Shubert Murat theatre in Indianapolis Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 11, 12 and 13, with matinee Saturday, in the dripping play, "Sakura," in which he will enhance the striking character of the Japanese diplomat and statesman, Prince Hagane. The action of "Sakura" transpires in Tokio, and depicts in vivid fashion, the lengths which a true son of Nippon will go in behalf of his beloved Japan. There is a love theme of flaming intensity, which involves the illustrious Prince Hagane and Onda Sadie, a lovely daughter of Nippon, who has been educated in America, and Fritz von Hemmerich, a young German attaché.

Need of Daily Prayer:—Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me; then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression. Psalm 19:13.

Prayer:—Lord, help us to pray without ceasing.

Christmas Savings

Nothing has ever appealed to the American's sense of thrift quite like a Christmas savings club. Ten years ago the combined savings of all the clubs in the United States were estimated at $28,000,000; this year they amount to $214,000,000, almost ten times as much.

The idea has been criticized because it persuades people to save to spend. But even so, investigation has shown that only forty-five per cent of the money saved in this manner is spent for Christmas gifts and other luxuries and twenty-eight per cent is redeposited in savings or checking accounts. The balance goes for essentials.

If none of the money saved in Christmas savings clubs were actually saved, they would promote the spirit of thrift and teach those who participate what can be accomplished by persistent saving.

The Christmas savings clubs will do more than all of the preaching on frugality and thriftiness conceivable. They give a realistic demonstration of what can be done by putting by a fixed sum each week.

Once convinced of what regular saving will do, the average person is going to strive to save for whatever objective he may have in life.

When Decay Sets in

Any individual who thinks he is better than anyone else is rushing headlong into trouble.

Any social, civic or business organization that gets the idea it is superior to all others is going to come upon breakers sooner or later.

Any community that boasts of being better than its neighbors is liable to decay unless it is constantly seeking to improve itself.

Business consists in generosity. To prosper it is necessary to give—and this applies to communities just as it does to individuals and organizations of individuals.

No one has any corner on excellence. Those who realize their shortcomings and are constantly seeking to overcome them, will come nearer attaining their goal than those who travel the path of self-righteousness and egotistical self-satisfaction.

Having pride in the place you live and boasting of its good points is to be commended, but such an attitude is a millstone on the neck of the community unless words are backed up by deeds.

Fire of unknown origin was discovered in the home of Kirby Smith in East Fifth street this morning about four o'clock by Carl Cruise, a next door neighbor. The Smith family was not at home and a considerable amount of furniture was damaged by the blaze and water. The fire is believed to be the work of an incendiary as everything points to that end. The members of the family have not been in the house since Sunday as Smith is employed in Indianapolis and his wife and children accompanied him back there. The blaze found in so many different places all at one time makes the belief stronger that it was of incendiary origin.

The money has been coming in fast for the Santa Claus fund since four o'clock yesterday afternoon. The cold breezes have made people think more about Christmas and they are coming to the rescue nobly. The total to date is $39.83.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTERBY HARRY B. HUNT
A Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Old-timers in Kansas, whose crops were devastated by the plague of grasshoppers which swept the prairies in 1874, couldn't, of course, know that they were simply paying in advance, the price of making a Kansas boy majority leader in the United States Senate in 1924.

Students of cause and effect, however, if they will examine the facts must inevitably decide that is exactly what happened.

For if it hadn't been for the grasshoppers, Charley Curtis would not have severed, when he did his life with the Kansas tribe of Indians, and the whole course of his later years probably would have been changed.

YOUNG CURTIS was at that time a lad of 14. He had lived intermittently, following his mother's death when he was three, with his father's folks in Topeka and with his mother's people in the Kansas tribe of Indians. During this period his maternal grandmother, Julie Pappan, who was one-half Indian, was his constant guide and counselor.

He had attended the mission school at the Kansas Indian Reservation, when with his grandmother, and the town grammar school when in Topeka.

When the grasshopper plague hit the state however, the Indians decided on an exodus down into the Indian Territory where the pastures had not been stripped. It was determined Charley should go with his maternal grandparents.

One night while they were in camp about six miles east of Topeka, with everything ready for hitting the trail for the "Territory," Grandmother Pappan called the boy to her. Briefly, she told him that while he was one-eighth Indian he was seven-eighths white, and that if he expected to make a success in life he must cast his lot with the white men. She urged him to stay in Topeka, go to school and "make something of himself."

CHARLEY stayed. He sold fruit at trains and did odd jobs to earn money through that winter.

Next spring he got a job riding running horses and soon branched out as a full-fledged jockey. His success in the saddle won him a chance to make a swing round the circuit in the winter of '78, and he had about decided to give up school and keep with the races when his paternal grandmother, Cornelia Curtis, persuaded him again to stick by his books.

So he stuck it out in Topeka, getting all the education the public schools there offered and learning still more by a period of reporting on the North Topeka Times.

In this job he developed his contacts with people—a thing which was later to prove most valuable to him in politics. He came to know almost every man, woman and child in Shawnee county.

IN '79, when 19 years of age, the district court conferred the rights of majority upon him. So he became "his own man" at 19 instead of 21. In that same year he began the study of law with A. H. Case in Topeka. He was admitted to practice in '81, and in '84 made his first venture into politics, securing himself elected county prosecutor.

In this office, which he held for two terms, he made a record seldom equaled: He lost but three cases his first year, only one the second and none at all in his third and fourth years.

NEXT came Congress. First as representative, then as senator, he has served a total of 26 years in Washington—10 in the House and 16 in the Senate. In the House—perhaps because he had learned how to wield one as a jockey—he was assistant "whip." On coming to the Senate he was made assistant to Murray Crane of Massachusetts, then whip, and succeeded to the position of whip when Crane retired in 1911.

That position he held throughout the rest of his senatorial career until advanced to the Republican leadership following the death of Senator Lodge.

A tactful, self-contained individual is Curtis, as befits his Indian ancestry. Swarthy of skin, powerful of build, with a square jaw and a firm hand, he looks able to lead by sheer force should persuasion fail.

In person and personality he is the exact opposite of the leader he succeeds.

But then Lodge could only trace his Americanism back to the Mayflower. Curtis' folks were here some centuries before that!

TODAY'S CROSS WORD PUZZLE

Why do still waters always run deep?

ANSWER TO MONDAY'S PUZZLE

The C. W. P. editor feels that none of his readers was any more puzzled over the old stitch-in-time-saves-nine-half-truth than he was. He studiously set about to solve the puzzle, skeptical all the while as to its genuineness.

It has been his observation (not experience) that a hole in the seat of the trousers is much more easily mended when first discovered, than if allowed to wear on.

After due deliberation upon the facts at hand, which may not be all of them, he has concluded that a stitch in time never saves more than five or six at the most. The time element, of course, enters largely into the consideration of the subject.

Some holes would never require nine stitches if allowed to run on forever, and others couldn't be mended with a whole spool of thread.

It is a topic that is recommended to cross word puzzle fans who want something they can stick to. Although old, it is not threadbare.

EVERYDAY DUTY

Keeping your body strong and efficient is your plain duty.

Scott's Emulsion

Prosperity and Gasoline

Genuine prosperity is with us when all men are employed creating new wealth—new merchandise—which is passed to the consuming public at prices which give them full value for the money spent.

New wealth is active wealth and active wealth, like active labor, is that which is employed making the world a better, happier place in which to live.

The man who owns an oil well is not prosperous unless there is an active demand for his oil. The mere possession of oil signifies nothing—it is of no profit. It is valuable only when it is put to use.

The main function of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is to make oil usable and to put the finished products where people can get them without effort.

By bringing oil products within the reach of everyone, at prices low enough to make them available to all, this Company creates new wealth and makes it active and usable.

A gallon of gasoline manufactured by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has a definite economic value, because it represents a potential service when put to use in a running motor.

The power—the service—latent in this gasoline will propel your car 8 to 22 miles in the pursuit of business or pleasure.

In using it you derive pleasure or profit—or both—and by using it you are adding to the general prosperity—by releasing a definite amount of capital for further use.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) serves you through its scientific discoveries, through its progressive use of chemical knowledge, through its efficient refinery administration, through its modern business organization, through its forward-looking labor policy, and through the high quality and wide distribution of its products.

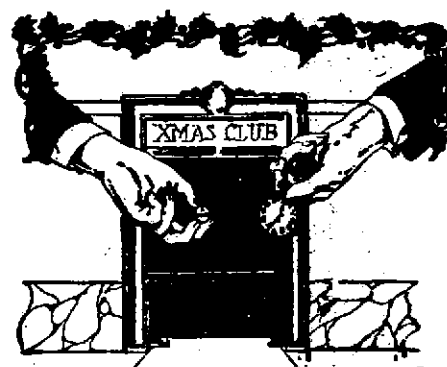

All these functions of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are at the service of every one who needs and buys a gallon of gasoline. The man who drives a Ford commands the immense resources of this organization as truly as does the man who operates a fleet of trucks.

FAIRVIEW PREPARES FOR MORGANTOWN CREW

Hopes to Keep Record Clean and Get Revenge For Defeat Last Season at Same Time

WILL BE PLAYED AT FALMOUTH

The Fairview Athletic club will meet their stiffest opposition of the season Thursday night when the Morgantown Independents will journey to Falmouth for the game.

The Morgantown team is among the best in the state. In the tourney for independent teams last spring at Indianapolis, they were the runners-up in the final game, and in the semi-finals defeated Fairview by two points. The Fairview team is anxious to get revenge from them. And the regular players will be used—Cook, Patton, Seales, Royalty, Peters, Reynolds, Craig and Winters.

Morgantown has several Martinsville high school and college players in its line-up. Schwaier, one of last year's stars on the Martinsville high school, state champs, is playing center for Morgantown and is reputed to be one of the fastest in the state. This team comes to Fairview with a whole string of victories and Fairview will make an effort to keep their record clean by winning.

The doors to the gym will be open at 6:45 and the game will start promptly at 8 p. m. No preliminary game will be played so as to give the visiting team plenty of time for their return home.

ALL ABOARD THE SPECIAL TO COLUMBUS! IF YOU ARE GOING GET YOUR NAME ON THE LIST. CALL 1522 AND TELL PRINCIPAL E. B. BUTLER THAT YOU ARE GOING.

The game Friday night will be the hardest for several weeks on the Lions schedule. Columbus has a team this year that is better than any before. It will take real playing to beat them. The Lions have the fight and snap. Let's boost 'em to the limit.

The main thing is to get started early, and keep the lead. Hit the basket, and hold tight to your defense. The defense was a little weak against Hagerstown; don't let 'em bust through.

NO. 9 FOR SPICELAND

Carmel must have a sweet team. They took Spiceland down the line 80 to 23.

RAN OUT OF CHALK

Markin' 'em Up of Newcastle says that the school house is convenient to the gym at Spiceland, so that the score keepers don't have so far to run after chalk.

Hopewell Smothers Whiteland, 99 to 11, says headline in Franklin Star. Guess Hopewell is hittin' their stride these days, as well as a few weeks ago, when they played here.

THIS IS NO DREAM, EITHER

Something tells us that Friday night, Lakim, Newbold and Arbuckle are going to hit that basket from all angles, and that McNamara will be right there to smash through for several shots. Miller is going to guard that basket like a veteran. If all five cylinders are working, the Roarin' Lions will make the Bull Dogs bark sound weak.

The Bull Pups and the Lion's Cubs will tangle in the curtain raiser. The Pups will be a hard team to down, but the Cubs so far have played teams that were stubborn, and they sorta like 'em.

News for Connersville: Rushville school officials have sent over 200 tickets for that "Battle of the Century" for December 19. Sorry we couldn't spare any more, but there will be room for others if they can have the patience to wait in line before the gates swing open.

SURE, MIKE IS A STAR!

Dear "Basket Bawls": Speaking of stars, here's what I'd call a team of moving stars: Arbuckle, of Rushville, forward Lloyd of Lapel, forward Turpin of Bloomington, center Terry of Lozansport, guard, Murry of Grass Creek, guard.

For substitutes I suggest Fox of Seymour and Compton of Williamsburg. Don't you think this outfit would win the silver sheet?

Perhaps They Know by This Time

Seek as we might in the printed scores we find no reference to the Rushville Lions, who had gone forth with the grim determination to "Cage Hagerstown". We'd like to learn the score before the Lions come here next week.

THOSE SIX HORSEMEN

We think Rushville has a good team and played well at Hagerstown but the Spartans will "tame" them Lions' plenty. SIX HORSEMEN

Here is a Tall Story

The following from the Greencastle Banner, Pass and Shoot, concerns the game last Friday between Columbus and Greencastle:

The C. I. S. Cubs can come back. The last half was 13-10 for Columbus. It was much better that 22-4 in the first half. Columbus should take warning from that last period. Columbus sure looked spiffy in their new blue and white suits and sweaters. They played spiffy ball too.

Every man stands six feet or better which sounds like an awful tall story.

So the Lions can see what you will be up against. Tall team, spiffy ball playing and spiffy suits. Of course we don't care about the suits, but don't let 'em display too much of that spiffy playing. As said before, the Bull Dogs got started early. Don't let 'em do it.

OH BOY, WE STARTED SOMETHING!

"Hittin' 'em", Rushville Republican says: the Connersville schedule sorta sounds like the schedule that Washington has, Elmore and Fritchton, hey George? He didn't say a word about Spiceland, Hagerstown and a few others that appear on the Lions' schedule.

—Basket Bawls, Washington

Probably not, but Hagerstown could wallopp any team in that neck of the woods, outside of Vincennes, or propably Washington. Of course, all schedules can't be made up of state champs.

POETRY FROM C'VILLE

Just a few lines to express my poetic feelings:
On December 19th in '34
There's a fight with Rushville on their floor

The fight of ages as you may know
Come on Spartans, let's make it a go!

On the night of the game I'll be there
With many C-ville people we'll give 'em a scare

"Tame Them Lions" that's my motto
Come on, Spartans, let's make it a go!

—Side Lights

Before Rushville plays Connersville, the Lions have a greater task ahead of them: BOUNCE THOSE DOGS, FRIDAY NIGHT.

E. H. LYLE SPEAKS TO THE ROTARY CLUB

worthy, other business men will rally to his support and see him through. We are going to come to see that we are in reality our brother's keeper; are going to see how business men can be helpful, one to the other.

"If Lincoln were living today, he would say that you can't fool very many of the people very much of the time. People are thinking more than they once did."

"If you are thinking of nothing but plucking, instead of being helpful destruction is ahead for you." Mr. Lyle stated in conclusion. "If you will but say to yourself 'The only thing worth while is to use the God-given power I have to make life a little sweeter, a little more wholesome and I am glad I have that opportunity' when you come to the end, you will know that you have misused the basic instincts with which you were entrusted."

ASKS COMMISSION FOR FACTS

Senate Resolution Calls For Information Regarding Packers

Washington, Dec. 8.—A resolution calling upon the federal trade commission to report all facts concerning an alleged attempt of the "Big Five" packers to secure modification of a recent court decree against them, was adopted today by the senate. The decree restrains the packers from competing in the wholesale grocery trade.

The resolution states that the packers are fighting the decree and that in as much as "public policies are involved" the commission should furnish the senate with information as to whether the action of the packers is justified and whether if the packers succeed in vacating the decree it will prove detrimental to the public interest.

The resolution was introduced by Senator Norris of Nebraska, a leader of the middle-western farm group.

Fans Want Something New

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Dec. 9.—Success of the New York Boxing Commission in arranging the first of the elimination rounds in the tournament to decide the successor to the world's featherweight championship may start a new vogue. Boxing needs a lot of new vogue, because it is going along like it did fifty years ago and times certainly have been changed since then.

Baseball rules are changed frequently to keep the game abreast of modern conditions. The rules, of course, haven't been altered radically but when modern times brought about the trick of tampering with the ball, the rule makers got busy and legislated the spitter, the shiner, the emery ball and other trick deliveries out of the game.

Football and basketball rules are being changed continually and golf, one of the very oldest of popular games, has been kept up with the times by legislators. Tennis, based upon fundamentals that hardly could be changed, has had frequent rule changes to meet problems that didn't exist in the old days.

Until the Walker Boxing Bill was passed in New York there had been no serious attempt made to get a modern set of rules that would bring the game up to date. There were only the London prize rules and the Marquis of Queensberry rules. Neither set of rules was thoroughly understood either by boxers or referees and the conduct of a bout reached the point where most anything went as long as it was above the belt. The violation of the rule

The picture is the first of the famous Russian actress has appeared in since she deserted the cinema for vaudeville and the legitimate stage two years ago.

"Madonna of the Streets," a story of London, is taken from "The Ragged Messenger," by W. B. Maxwell, an English author of worldwide popularity. The book has been acclaimed as one of the most notable literary products of the modern school of English authors, and the scenario is the best that Nazimova has ever chosen. The picture is not only interesting in itself because of its story interest, but it allows both Nazimova and Sills to show their best acting ability.

Christmas Suggestions

A Hint to Shoppers

There are a lot of presents you might give—presents that will be gone in a day or two, forgotten in a short time, laid aside or worn out. It is easy to make such gifts. Most people do.

But if you wish to place yourself out of the class of ordinary givers, if you wish to get away from the commonplace in your Christmas presents, consider this:

Except for children, every normal man and woman has one open avenue of approach. We all love our ease. Comfort is dear to the hearts of us all. Therefore, give something that will give comfort. Something that the recipient will appreciate so greatly that it will be quickly replaced if it ever wears out. This, after all, is the true test of all gifts. "Is it wanted enough to be replaced, should replacement become necessary?" If the answer is "Yes," the gift is ideal.

But—best of all—such gifts do not wear out easily. Their original cost frequently exceeds that of commonplace gifts—but our convenient credit terms well offset this comparatively unimportant point.

For example, gifts of thoughtfulness for all the family:

For Father

An easy chair in which to take his comfort after a hard day's work. A smoker's lamp to make the evening paper more enjoyable. An ash tray in all his favorite corners, to save his running around, looking for a place to empty his pipe or dispose of his cigar ashes. A shaving mirror, to take the risk from shaving.

For Mother

A comfortable chair for her sewing. An end-table for her book or magazine at the arm of the davenport. A genuine McDougall Kitchen Cabinet, to make her work easier during the day and to leave her rested enough, when evening comes, to enjoy herself. A sewing table to lighten this part of her work.

For Son

An easy chair as comfortable as dad's. A desk and good lamp for his room, if he needs them. A smoker's stand to place beside his bed. A bookcase or card table.

For Daughter

If married, a McDougall—to keep her young by conserving her strength and health. A vanity dresser and stool for her room. Boudoir lamps. A polychrome mirror. A floor lamp or bridge lamp to brighten up that dark corner.

For the Home

A new three-piece suite for your living room—so that you all may be glad to invite your friends. An artistic mirror, to lend a note of welcome and hospitality to your hall. An attractive desk to make the hall more friendly. A McDougall, so that you may be proud of your kitchen. A Danport-Bed, to take care of extra guests.

READ THIS:

Nothing mentioned above is "out of your reach." Convenient credit terms enable all to enjoy the comforts listed here. A down payment so low that you hardly will miss it will bring to your home the "Comfort Gift" you want—and still leave plenty of ready cash for your extra shopping.

Be different, this Christmas. Come in and let us explain exactly how. No obligation, of course.

LIVING WITH-OUT A STOMACH

That's about how it is when your stomach is in first class order, you hardly know that you have one.

But what a difference when it isn't working right! You begin to think it is about the worst enemy you have and that it will get you sooner or later. You wish you could get along without it.

You need not get to that state if you will take care of the one you have. Treat it right by eating right, the things it should have, and not overdo.

If you haven't taken care of it, and are bothered with indigestion, you can still help it out with Di-Jo. Here's a real aid to digestion. It is surprising how quickly you can be relieved of that heavy overloaded feeling after meals. Di-Jo Tablets taken after meals help your stomach digest the food. They help prevent gas and that bloating. Their ingredients are intended to absorb that gas. They neutralize the acid condition in the stomach, and help you get rid of that unpleasant belching and sour stomach. Just a few tablets necessary.

The various drugs used in Di-Jo are the same as those prescribed by very many family physicians for indigestion and deranged stomachs. Di-Jo is compounded by one of the best pharmacists in America. They are absolutely harmless.

Better get a bottle and either relieve your present disorder, or be prepared in case you should overeat or your stomach weaken and get you into misery. Your nearest druggist sells them.

If you are troubled with constipation take Di-VAC. It is sold by all druggists and is recommended as the proper laxative to be used in connection with Di-Jo, if any is needed.
